

Please wear a poppy to show your gratitude for those who fought for our freedom and those who continue the fight today. On November 11 at 11 a.m., please take two minutes of silence and remember.

Remembrance Day 2020, will be a lot different from those we have known in decades past. We won't be able to stand together in silence with our friends and neighbours as the haunting sound of a lone trumpet sends The Last Post soaring into the brisk November air. We'll miss the solemn grace of the colour guard that bears the flags of the country for which our service men and women fought, and often laid down their lives.

This year, an unseen enemy stands between us and our wish to honour our heroes as they deserve. But several communities have found a way to bring their memories to life, giving them a virtual opportunity to march once more down the main streets of their home towns.

Left: If you take a walk through the village of Brigden along Brigden Road, you will see the faces of brave men in their youth looking down at you from their watch posts on the utility poles (Photo insets show a few of the faces you'll see). This year, colourful ban-ners, sponsored by the Royal Canadian Legion Branch 635, Brigden, will remind us of their corrige and sacrificor, and we will remomber service and sacrifices, and we will remember all who fought to keep us free.

"They shall not grow old, as we who are left grow old: Age shall not weary them, nor the years condemn. At the going down of the sun and in the morning We will remember them."

Shell facility will not be sold

Shell Canada has been actively marketing the Shell Manufacturing Centre north of Corunna since January, 2019, but the decision has now been made to retain it.

In an emailed statement received by St. Clair Township Mayor Steve Arnold, the facility's External Relations Manager Olwen Gover said, "Shell will continue to operate these assets, maintain its marketing presence in Ontario, and continue to honour branded supply and wholesale agreements." The plant was taken off the market when negotiations with a prospective buyer were unsuccessful.

Mayor Arnold says this comes as good news for the township. "We are all pleased that Shell has decided to keep the refinery, distribution centre, and dock as part of their core business in St. Clair Township. It will put a lot of minds at ease that Shell continues to see the site as an important asset in their world-wide operations." He acknowledged the facility's employees for their commitment to their work during the uncertainty caused by the prospective sale. "Its employees continued to operate the site in a safe and environmentally friendly manner," he said.

However, the public may view the meetings online by going onto the township website at: www.stclairtownship.ca On the St. Clair Township home page, look for the link to the meeting, top of the page, highlighted in blue.

Upcoming meetings include: Monday, Nov. 2 at 3 p.m. and Monday, Nov. 16 at 3 p.m.

St. Clair Township offices at the Civic Centre in Mooretown will remain closed during council meetings and for public access. Winter Parking by-law

The winter parking by-law will be in effect beginning on Dec. 1, 2020. Under this by-law, it is against the law to leave vehicles of any kind parked on public streets and roads overnight from 2 a.m. to 6 a.m. The by-law ensures that snow removal crews can do their jobs efficiently and safely without being hampered by parked cars.

PLEASE NOTE: All boats and trailers parked in laneways MUST be set back at least to the front yard set back of the zone in which you reside. In Corunna and all built-up areas, any trailer or boat MUST be a minimum of six (6) metres setback from the property line through April 1, 2021.

Property owners are also reminded that it is against the law to shovel snow out onto public streets and roads. These snow piles create dangerous obstacles that can contribute to needless vehicle collisions and mishaps.

Pay taxes and water online

Ratepayers now have the option to pay their taxes or water bills online with any major credit card (Visa, Mastercard, Amex) or PayPal with PaySimply, a secure third-party provider. Visit the St. Clair Township website and simply click on 'property taxes payment' or 'water payment'.

Fawn Island parking area safety concern

The safety of Fawn Island residents using the shoreline docks immediately north of the Southwestern Sales Corp. (SWS) dock will be addressed by the township in response to safety concerns raised by SWS. The company asked that the township pay for and install steel structure swing gates to block public access to the shoreline area and three docks immediately north of the property SWS leases from the township (at the south end of the Fawn Island parking area). The company pointed out that two steel cable anchor points used to help secure freighters that offload gravel at the SWS dock are within the shoreline area that will be blocked off by the new gates. SWS says these anchor points have been located in that area for many decades and are essential for operation. However, members of the public that use the public docks and the boat ramps, and drive under or over the anchor cables while the ships are off-loading, are in danger. SWS believes it is "only a matter of time before a major accident will occur at this location."

Council agreed the fence and gates are a good idea to protect those who use the public area. "It's to protect our people when they're (SWS) unloading a ship, so we're getting the benefit of it," said Mayor Arnold. A motion to undertake the steel gate project was passed.

The gates will be activated by SWS workers when freighters are at the dock, and they will temporarily block access to the three public docks at the south end of the Fawn Island parking area. SWS estimates approximately 10-12 loaded gravel ships dock at the site each year, with about eight of them docking during the Fawn Island season. The duration of the off-loading process is about five hours per ship. The cost of the protective barrier will be paid from the Works Dept. operational budget and installation will be handled by the township.

Sombra Museum receives COVID grant

The Sombra Museum has received a grant for $10,000 from the Ministry of Canadian Heritage. The grant was awarded under the Museums Assistance Program - COVID-19 Emergency Support Fund. The grant is to be used to help the museum carry out its normal activities. It will help make up funds that would normally be made through fundraising events that are held through the summer and community donations.

OPG takes over Lambton G.S. project

Ontario Power Generation (OPG) has informed council it has resumed full control of the Lambton Generating Station site after terminating its contract with JMX Contracting Inc. About 60 per cent of the structures have been removed and according to OPG, the site is currently in a "safe, shutdown state".

In a letter to Mayor Arnold, OPG Project Manager Ralph Curitti said," OPG...is exploring options to resume the demolition project in a safe and environmentally responsible manner using an alternate contractor."

During a council discussion regarding the letter, it was suggested the current halt in the demolition process would be an appropriate time to make council's concerns known to OPG. One aspect of the project that has already been discussed involves the method in which the stacks will be removed from the site. During a council meeting in 2019, OPG representatives attended council to outline a plan involving explosives to bring down the three stacks.

Council objected to this method, citing the massive dust and debris the falling stacks would put into the air. This method was used successfully in the dismantling of other tall stacks at OPG stations like Lakeview G.S. near Toronto. But with the Lambton facility so close to its township neighbours, the St. Clair River, and the neighbouring state of Michigan, council believes it would be an environmentally unwise option for this application.

Opening of community halls reviewed

The reopening of community halls in the township was reviewed at both October council meetings. It was decided the halls will remain closed to the public for now, although hall board meetings may take place there subject to the observation of all COVID-19 safety protocols. As the coronavirus situation improves, council will revisit the matter.

Small business relief fund now available

On Oct. 21, the federal government announced an investment of $12 million in support of the Canada United Small Business Relief Fund.

Small businesses comprise the heart of any community. Their success is critical to helping Canada recover from COVID-19 and it is essential to the nation's economic strength.

Canada United is a national movement created and launched by RBC to support local businesses in communities across the country. This fund grants up to $5,000 to small businesses so they can cover the costs of personal protective equipment (PPE) as well as physical modifications and digital enhancements to their businesses to meet local health and safety requirements. The grant can also be used to help firms with the cost of PPE and enhance their e-commerce capabilities so they can do more business online.

The fund is a response to the uncertainty small business owners have endured in the wake of the pandemic.

Facing losses, the increased cost of reopening, and hesitant consumer confidence, many small businesses face significant challenges in the struggle to stay open. Applications for the relief fund are now available to local businesses of all types, from hair care shops to retailers to farmers.

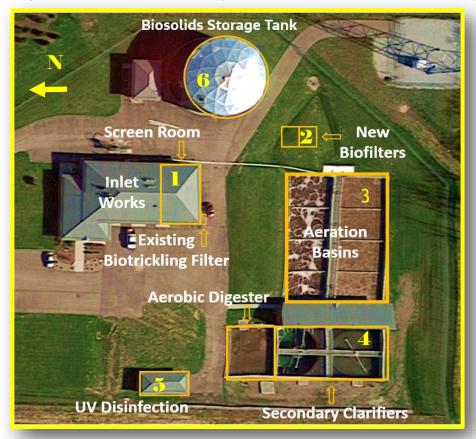

Perin Beatty, President and Chief Executive Officer of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce, commented, "The Canada United Small Business Relief Fund is helping our small businesses offset the cost required to reopen safely or adopt digital technologies to move more of their business online at a time when they need it most. Chambers of commerce and boards of trade from coast, to coast, to coast have come together to start the Canada United movement, to show local businesses all the support they deserve."

Canadian small businesses can learn more and apply for the grant online.

Open house at Courtright Waste Treatment Plant (WWTP) a sweet revelation

Aerial view of the Courtright Waste Water Treatment plant

Screen room (inside inlet works building) is where effluent enters the plant.

New biofilters treat odorous air from the inlet channel at the front-end of the aeration basins, the aerobic digester, biosolids storage tank vent, and truck loading station.

The biosolids storage tank stores the treated sludge until it can be transferred to trucks for disposal via land application during a short period of time each year. The guide for this tour was Brian Black, Director of Public Works.

Brian Black describes the function of the aeration basins where effluent is treated by bacteria that feeds on it.

The secondary clarifier tanks, (4) foreground, further treat effluent, which is then separated, and the cleaned water sent to the UV disinfection building (5) for use in the plant. Sludge from these tanks is sent to the biosolids storage tank (6).

The event, where care was taken to observe all COVID-19 safety measures, was co-hosted by St. Clair Township and Jacobs, the company that undertook the project and will continue to look after it. Visitors were greeted with hand sanitizer and contact information was taken in case someone at the event to be maintained later tested positive for the coronavirus. Tour-takers were treated to a barbecue lunch, courtesy of Works Department staff, at the end of their informative trip around the facility.

St. Clair Township Director of Works Brian Black described the scope of the work. "The big source of odor we have here is hydrogen sulfide (H_2S) , so in order to get rid of it, we put in a much larger bio-air unit. It creates a vacuum unit (in the screen room) where sewage comes into the plant, and draws all that H_2S up into a system that takes it over and uses natural sources to eat away at the H_2S , essentially getting rid of it," he said. Another added feature is the recycling of sludge from the final stage of the process. "Activated sludge comes off the last cell and is recycled into the screen room. That's got all the nutrients in it that eat away at the H₂S and essentially helps reduce the odour in the air," said Mr. Black. The upgraded system also includes the UV disinfection build-have to make sure

Brigden banners pay tribute to hometown heroes

The line of Veterans Memorial Banners that lines the main street of Brigden is the work of the Royal Canadian Legion Brigden Branch 635. The banners portray many of the young hometown men who have served their country during times of conflict to protect our peace and freedom.

The banners were funded by the families of the men whose photos appear on them, and they were produced by Dynagraphics of Corunna. "They did an awesome job," said Brigden Legion Vice-president Gostick.

The banners were installed by St. Clair Township workers on brackets paid for by St. Clair Township. Mr. Gostick expressed thanks to St. Clair Township Council and staff for its support and help with the project. "I want to thank Mayor Steve Arnold, David Neeley, and the whole council for their support. This project would not have happened without it," he said. He also acknowledged the work of Legion members who helped with the project, including: Deanna Munday; Ron Hay-ward; and Eldon Krohn.

The banners will be put up from Oct.1 to Nov. 15 each year for the next three years, after which they will each be returned to the families who purchased them.

Mr. Gostick says the banners have evoked emotional responses from some of the people who have been out to see the display. He also noted there are two large banners on display at the front of the Brigden Legion Hall at 3021 Brigden Road.

Several other local communities, including Corunna and Wallaceburg, currently have memorial banners on display

The Brigden Br. 635 Legion hall is currently open from Thursday through Saturday, 4:30 p.m. to 8 p.m. Meat raffles are held every second Saturday.

Beat the silent killer: Prevent CO in your home

Ontario's Carbon Monoxide (CO) Awareness Week runs from November 1-7, and the St. Clair Township Fire Department reminds you that it's the law to install CO alarms in your home if you have a fuel-burning appliance, a fireplace or an attached garage. Fuel-burning appliances can include furnaces, hot water heaters, gas or wood fireplaces, portable fuel-burning heaters and generators, barbeques, stoves and vehicles.

What is CO?

CO is known as the silent killer because it is an invisible, tasteless and odourless gas that can be deadly. It is produced when fuels such as propane, gasoline, natural gas, heating oil or wood do not burn completely in fuel-burning appliances and devices such as furnaces, gas or wood fireplaces, hot water heaters, stoves, barbeques, portable fuel-burning heaters and generators and vehicles. Prevent CO in your home

- Ensure fuel-burning appliances, chimneys and vents are cleaned and inspected annually. Visit COSafety.cato find a registered contractor near you.
- Check that all outside appliance vents are not blocked.

Gas and charcoal barbeques should only be used outside, away from all doors, windows, vents, and other building open-ings. Never use barbeques inside garages, even if the garage doors are open.

Portable fuel-burning generators should only be used out-. doors in well-ventilated areas away from windows, doors, vents and other building openings.

Ensure all portable fuel-burning heaters are vented properly, according to manufacturer's instructions.

Never use the stove or oven to heat your home. Never run a vehicle or other fueled engine or motor inside a gar-age, even if the garage doors are open. Always remove a vehicle from the garage immediately after starting it.

Know the symptoms of CO Exposure to CO can cause flu-like symptoms such as headaches, nausea, dizziness, as well as confusion, drowsiness, loss of consciousness and death. If your CO alarm sounds, get every-one out of the home immediately. Then call 9-1-1 from outside the building.

Know the sound of your CO alarm

Your CO alarm sounds different than your smoke alarm. Test both alarms monthly and make sure everyone in your home knows the difference between the two alarm sounds. Don't be confused by the sound of your CO alarm's low-battery warning. Follow your CO alarm manufacturer's instructions so you know the difference between the low-battery warning, the "end-oflife" warning, and the alarm that alerts you to the presence of CO in your home.

- New COVID-19 map available to the public Lambton Public Health recently announced the expansion of the Lambton COVID-19 surveillance report. As of Oct. 19, Lambton Public Health is reporting confirmed COVID-19 cases in Lambton County across five "reporting re-gions," using the COVID-19 Case Map. The development of a tool that maps addresses to reporting regions was supported by the County of Lambton's In-formation Technology department in consultation with a team from Lambton Public Health responsible for sur-veillance and epidemiology support veillance and epidemiology support. "This new tool allows the public to access additional information about COVID-19 cases in their region while keep-
- ing the personal health information of those individuals private," says Siobhan Churchill, Epidemiologist with Lambton Public Health. "This is an important tool for Lambton County, as it allows the public to visualize how case rates vary across our urban and rural regions, accounting for the fact that some regions have more residents than others.
- The COVID-19 case map shows where confirmed cases of COVID-19 in Lambton County were living at the time of illness. It does not indicate where cases were exposed to COVID-19, and it cannot be used to draw conclusions about personal risk.
- The report shows the number and rate per 100,000 of COVID-19 cases by reporting region. Users can choose to view case counts and rates based on the total number of cases since the start of the pandemic, or the number of cases in the past month.
- If users are unsure which reporting region they live in, they can look for their municipality in the table below the map or follow the written directions to look up their dissemination area and corresponding reporting region.

 Lambton residents are reminded to continue to practice good public health safety measures. Limit social interactions, practice physical distancing, wear a mask when you cannot or are required to do so, wash your hands frequently, and please stay home if you are sick. We all have a role to play at reducing COVID-19 in our community. We can get through this together, because we are stronger, together.

Wartime rationing issued to ensure Canadians received fair share of limited resources

Seeing empty shelves in grocery stores and limits on the purchase of certain items was a new experience for most of us during the early part of the COVID-19 pandemic, but these sights would have been commonplace to those who experienced the hard times during World War II. Rationing was implemented in Canada in April, 1942 by the Wartime Prices and Trade Board.

With food items and materials, such as metals and gasoline, needed for the war effort, many products were rationed for home use. The purchase of sugar, tea, butter, coffee, meat, beer and wine at the store required not only money, but the appropriate ration coupon or token. (examples of these in Moore Museum's collection are shown below)

At times, even ration coupons and money would not be enough to obtain these items, as supplies were not available.

Limits on such staples as meat and sugar required people to make changes in how they would normally prepare meals. Booklets, such as the one pictured here, left, offered suggestions on making the most of your rations. The accompanying recipe, above right, shows how a wide variety of meats could be used since various meats were in different ration groups.

Wartime shortand ages restrictions were other seen in ways as well. Stories are told of underwear with buttons due to shortage of the rubber needed to make elastic, and women painting a line up the back of their calves to make it look like they were wear-

Moore Museum is developing another virtual exhibit for our website, this one featuring brief histories and photos of the schools in the former Moore Township prior to centralization in 1963. Sombra Museum seeks information to document COVID-19 era

Working in a museum, we tend to be concerned about documenting and preserving the past, but right now we are living through an event that is unlike any we have experienced in the last century, if ever before, so the focus is very much on the pre-sent. So often, when looking through the archives we get very excited to find the shortest photo caption, post card, note, or on rare occasions, a diary recording daily life. Looking for local accounts of the 1919 Spanish Flu pandemic and finding very little from the local perspective, we realized that we need our St. Clair Township residents to help us record and preserve memories of the present time for future generations. What is going on day-to-day in Sombra, Wilkesport, Port Lambton, Mooretown, Lambton County, Canada, and elsewhere in the world?

Information we hope you will share includes:

Southwest Regional Credit Union donates to St. Andrew's foodbank

Restrictions required to battle the COVID-19 pandemic have made necessary fundraising difficult for may commu-nity groups and organizations. Barbecues, dinners, and many other special events and festivals had to be cancelled for fear they would promote the spread of the coronavirus. Yet this year has taken a brutal toll on many individuals and families, making fundraising for groups like our food banks more important than ever. Southwest Regional Credit Union understands the critical need in the community. Each year, its four local branch-es support community events. This year, it was decided that four local foodbanks should be chosen to receive a dona-tion of $5,000 each. St. Andrew's foodbank in Corunna was recently presented with the donation during a COVID-friendly ceremony. 🗆 Brigden Fair fact

Established in 1850, Moore Agricultural Society -Home of the Brigden Fair, has grown from a oneday agricultural event, where farmers presented the fruits of their labours through exhibition of their crops or their livestock for bragging rights, to a four-day community event held on Thanksgiving Weekend.

The Brigden Fair brings over 50,000 people to Brigden (Brigden normal pop. approx. 520) annually. During the rest of the year, volunteers host celebrations of life (weddings, banquets, funerals), and provide a venue for camping associations and fundraisers. Being a good friend, a good neighbour, and a good citizen is important to Moore Agricultural Society. As a community hub, we provide supports to local 4-H clubs, Cooking Buddies, seniors activities, local churches, St. Joseph's Hospice, pediatrics program, women's shelters, HIV/ Aids awareness, and local food banks, and we provide an evacuation/heating/cooling centre for the area during times of emergency.

area during times of emergency. The coronavirus (COVID 19) has forced the cancellation of all events that would have supported the maintenance and upkeep of our property and buildings. Each year during Thanksgiving Weekend, the "Harvest of Gold" 50/50 draw is held, and this year we are taking the draw online. We hope you will take this opportunity to assist Moore Agricultural Society - Home of the Brigden Fair, so we can continue to support our community.

Above: Displays full of humour and whimsy have become an annual sight along Brigden Road in the front yard of the Ford family. The sign expresses the feelings of thousands of fair fans.

In mourning for the loss of the 2020 fair, sisters Clara and Emma Spooner appeared at the fairgrounds on opening day dressed in their updated take on "widows weeds". The fair has been an annual highlight of the sisters' year and their opinion of this unhappy cancellation is that it's "No fair!" Even though COVID-19 has thrown our lives off-kilter, members of the Agricultural Homecraft Moore Society Division "bubble" found a way to get the work done at a distance COVID-style, as this line of happy pie makers clearly demonstrates. The pies were sold during a prepaid pie fundraiser over Thanksgiving weekend. This "wellbaking oiled machine' made over 600 pie crusts for their single and doublecrust pies.

Brigden Fair / Moore Agricultural Society fundraiser supports fair and offers jackpot

The gloomy prospect of having no community fall fairs this year has prompted the Canadian Association of Fairs and Exhibitions to launch an online 50/50 draw to raise funds that will benefit the organizations that operate these events. The Moore Agricultural Society (Brigden Fair) is one of the organizations participating in the CAFE Online 50/50 draw.

Those wishing to support the fair can simply buy a numbered ticket good for a whole year. At the time of purchase, you will be able to tell the purchase agent that you would like to support the Moore Agricultural Society (Brigden Fair).

Fair). With the ticket, you can play your number every week and if you win, the "pot" for that week will be split between you and the Brigden Fair. If you do not want to play your number on any given week and your number is drawn, the money from that draw will be added to the next week's 'pot 'and for every $2 ticket purchased in support of the Brigden Fair, the fair will receive 80 cents whether the purchaser wins the pot or not.

This is the first of the ideas the MAS board of directors is working on. MAS Home Craft President Michelle Evanitski says other ideas are being considered. "The board of directors has some ideas in the works for activities and events both online and in-person, and we hope we can count on community support when we announce these plans," she said.

Lambton Public Health urges flu shots for people ages six months and up Lambton Public Health is urging everyone to get a flu shot this year - the sooner, the better. Flu vaccines are now available from various locations across Lambton County, including local pharmacies, health care providers, and community clinics.

For those who have difficulty accessing the flu shot at their pharmacy or health care provider's office, Lambton Public Health will be offering several community clinics by appointment only. Flu shot appointments can now be booked by phone at 519-383-8331 or online by visiting LambtonPublicHealth.ca/flu-shot.

The flu shot is recommended for individuals 6 months of age and older. Please note that pharmacists can provide vaccines to those 5 years of age and older. For those who are 65 years and older, there are two different flu shots available - standard-dose and high-dose. Both vaccines protect against the flu and the most important thing is for older adults to be vaccinated. Discuss your options with your healthcare provider.

The flu vaccine is proven to reduce the number of doctor visits, hospitalizations, and deaths related to the flu. During a pandemic, it's important to reduce the strain on the health care system from other infections, so we have the capacity to respond to COVID-19," said Crystal Palleschi, supervisor with Lambton Public Health. Protect yourself and your circle by getting a seasonal flu shot; it's the safest and most effective way to prevent the spread of the flu.

through coughing, sneezing, or touching infected surfaces. The flu usually lasts 2-7 days; sometimes longer in the elderly and those with health problems.

The flu is a respiratory disease, which is not to be confused with a stomach illness that involves vomiting or diarrhea.

During this time of uncertainty, it is important to do everything we can to keep our community safe and protect our loved ones. Those who are more vulnerable to flu and COVID-related complications are: 65 years of age or older; under 5 years of age; have a chronic health condi-tion; are pregnant; or are living in a care facility. It is crucial for you to get your flu shot if you are in close contact with any of the groups listed above.

Flu season typically increases when temperatures fall and people are in closer contact indoors. After getting the flu shot, it takes about two weeks for the vaccine to take effect and provide protection. The earlier you get vaccinated, the sooner you are protected.

To prevent the spread of both the flu and COVID-19:

- Clean your hands with soap and water, or alcoholbased hand sanitizer
- Cover your cough use a tissue or sleeve
- Keep surfaces clean
- If you're sick, stay home

For information about influenza and where to access the free flu shot, visit LambtonPublicHealth.ca/flu-shot, or call Lambton Public Health at 519-383-8331 or toll free 1-800-667-1839.

Influenza spreads in a similar way to COVID-19:

Provincial For those who are not yet aware of Ontario's mandatory mask policy, here's a reminder that masks are to be worn in indoor public spaces and in locations where social distancing cannot be mask assured. This policy is in force in all municipalities throughout the province. The policy was en-acted in response to a resurgence of COVID-19 virus cases within the province. This second wave of the coronavirus was expected as the cold weather forces people to spend more time indoors, where the virus spreads more easily. Protective measures are being observed, not only for the health of the individual, but for the health of others, and to limit the burden on our health care providers and infrastructure. Please limit indoor gatherings to 10 or less. mandate in effect

COVID-19 requirements affect Operation Christmas Tree donations

As in past years, businesses and residents of our community generously supported Operation Christmas Tree (OCT) during the 2019 campaign. We will be asking for that same support for the 2020 OCT campaign as the need will be even greater due to the negative effects the COVID -19 pandemic continues to have on the community.

To comply with COVID-19 protocol, we are currently asking for donations of money or gift cards from Foodland or No Frills. For those who are unfamiliar with our charity, Operation Christmas Tree serves those in need who live in an area bordered by LaSalle Road East to Mandaumin Road, south on Bickford Line, and west to the river, which is known as Ward 1. All donations stay within this area helping our local food bank, providing special hampers to the area's less fortunate families and individuals at Christmas, and providing monetary support to house fire victims.

Canned goods may be dropped off only at the Emergency Services Building, corner of Hill Street and Lyndoch Street in Corunna, (please use the Hill Street entrance). Registra-tion dates have been set as Nov. 2-7 and Nov. 9-14 between the hours of 9:30 a.m. and 4:30 p.m. each week. Our delivery date to qualifying recipients will Dec 12th. COVID-19 protocol will be observed for the protection of our volunteers and the public. After these registration dates, donation times may change and will be posted at the Hill Street entrance. The tentative final date for donations will be Dec. 18 but updates may be made through The Beacon or the new Operation Christmas Tree site - St Clair Township Facebook page!
